Every month, a beautiful bouquet of the kinds of flowers that make flower lovers swoon. Flowers picked right from the garden or offered up in zinc buckets at a farmer's market. Not the unnaturally blemish-free blossoms straight from the florist's refrigerated case, but soft, luminous blooms whose very imperfections—a petal curled with age, a stem bowed—are the very secret to their appeal.

The Flowers Calendar features a year of refreshingly uncomposed compositions photographed at their most appealing. Displayed in a pail, pitcher, or other container at hand, each is garden-fresh and exquisitely beautiful. And the roses—close your eyes, and you can almost smell them!
