This book offers a new kind of introduction to criminal justice—a lively, evocative text built around and enlivened by the lived experiences of those who, by choice or not, are heavily involved in the criminal justice system. The authors have included over 30 narratives from victims, offenders, and professionals working within the system. These personal narratives provide real-life examples of how crime and the criminal justice system are experienced.

“I hate all of those sensationalizing pictures and distracting sidebars in most introduction to criminal justice texts, but the students like the real stories, so this book is perfect. This text looks like what I would get if I could special order a book.”
